Eugenia Last

Born and raised in the Toronto area, Eugenia Last attended Alma College in St. Thomas (Ont.), Institute of Astrological Studies and Humber College. Being reared by a Romanian/Ukrainian family who had a strong belief in astrology made this art particularly easy for her. Last began forming a client base during her second year of college and started to write for local newspapers in 1979.

Greater recognition followed. By the mid-1980s, Last had her own radio show and was a featured guest on numerous radio and television shows. By the late '80s, she published her own book.

Last's syndicated column, The Last Word in Astrology, has been distributed by Universal Press Syndicate since 1997. It runs in nearly 300 newspapers worldwide. In addition, since 1992, she has written yearly books offering the only day-by-day horoscope guide for each of the signs, as well as a practical guide to astrology, based on her philosophy.

"For years now, astrology has been misinterpreted, misunderstood and misused by being associated with psychics and the occult," says Last. "Astrology is first of all a mathematical science and secondly an interpretive art. I am conclusively trying to teach people that astrology is not a predictive subject but one that deals with self-awareness, personal insight, growth and timing. I want to bring my subject to you in an educational, entertaining and motivating manner."

Last believes that the ancient art of astrology can be considered the modern art of timing. Often considered fortunetelling, astrology is rather a tool that can be used to help an individual to do the right thing at the right time.

Last has the top astrological Web site in the world. She launched her www.astroadvice.com site in English, Spanish, Korean, Chinese, simplified Chinese and Japanese and has recently taken over the astrological portion of Web TV. She has made a vast number of media appearances and is currently developing her own television show.

At 'Last' – Weekly and Monthly Advice from the Queen of Newspaper Astrology

Kansas City, MO. Eugenia Last, known for her daily Universal Press Syndicate astrological column, "The Last Word in Astrology," is now writing weekly and monthly columns for those who like to plan ahead. In addition, she has created a weekly romance advice column called "LoveScope" and "Dear Eugenia" that answers questions from readers based on their birth data.

Last, who believes that "astrology is a mathematical science and an interpretive art" has had her daily column syndicated by Universal Press since 1997. "To understand the science part of astrology, think about how the moon affects the ocean tides. People are made up largely of water," Last explains. Timing is also a key factor in Last's astrology. "I really believe there is no such thing as failure. There is only the fact that people begin something at the wrong time." Along with timing, Last hopes to teach people that "astrology is not a predictive subject, but one that deals with self-awareness, personal insight, and growth."

Last's newest advice columns, Astro Advice Weekly and Astro Advice Monthly, have been created especially for weekly and monthly newspapers. In her new features, Last details specific dates and events that she advises readers to pay close attention to. In a sample of Last's weekly column she tells Aries that a lesson can be learned on the 23rd, 24th, and 25th that will be helpful in the future.

"LoveScope" is a weekly astrological look at romance, which Last hopes will help lovers decide when to back off or move forward with love. In a "LoveScope" sample, Last explains what the week looks like for Virgos in the romance department. "You are likely to meet someone through work or an event that deals with one of your interests. Make a move before someone else steps in ahead of you."

"Dear Eugenia" is a weekly Q and A that answers three questions a week from readers. Eugenia gives them suggestions about life decisions, timing and relationships based on the birth data with which they provide her. "Professionally, your chart improves as the year comes to a close and remains favorable until mid-to-late next year."

Her columns are syndicated all over the world. She has written five books, two computer software programs, two Web sites, appeared on a vast number of radio and television shows and recently had her own two-hour talk show on satellite radio. Last followed in the footsteps of her Romanian uncle who also studied astrology. She was educated at the Institute of Astrological Studies in Toronto and also attended Humber College.

The Timing Is Right: Celebrating "The Last Word in Astrology"

Kansas City, MO. For Eugenia Last, the future may be in the stars, but the practical implication of astrology is very much down to earth. Eugenia Last has offered advice to readers of, "The Last Word in Astrology," her daily astrology column syndicated by Universal Press Syndicate, for the past 10 years. Last combines interpretive art with mathematical science to determine horoscopes every day.

Last's message is that astrology is the art of timing. "I'm a big believer that nature's way is that for every positive in life there is an equal negative, but why focus on the negative? It may not be a good time to change jobs, but a good time to sell the house. This is your timing. We all have to take charge and control of our lives," she said.

Many people refer to astrology as fortune-telling, but Last explains the difference between the two. "We are all psychic...it is an intuitive power," she says, "but psychics don't have astrological information behind it." Astrology is the study of the positions and aspects of celestial bodies with a view to predicting their influence on human affairs.

After signing with Universal Press, "The Last Word in Astrology" added celebrity birthdays and a "birthday baby" section, which highlights some personality traits of babies born on that day. Last has also recently added "Astro Advice Weekly," "Astro Advice Monthly," a romance column called "LoveScope" and a Q and A, "Dear Eugenia," to her list of credits.

Last says that more ideas are currently in the works, one in particular that combines her love of cooking with her love for astrology. "Books like 'Name Your Baby for Success' and 'Cook Your Way into Your Honey's Heart' are in the works," she says.

Last has now recreated a print column like that with which she started her career. "The original column from 1979 is like an astrological Ann Landers, which is currently a huge hit on the internet," she described it. In this column, Last answers three questions per week about anything from business to love. "The feedback from that is incredible," she says. "Almost everyone comes back and tells me how much I have helped them go one way or another." This column is also available on the Web.

When Last has some free time, she still keeps her self busy in other ways. "I love to cook...big fan of the kitchen and food, but to compensate for the food, I am also extremely physical. I run about 30k (kilometers) a week and lift about 2,400 reps of light weights a week," she says. She is also very active with her kids, Tina, 28, Andy, 30, and Casey, 34. She enjoys rollerblading, walking, reading, sports, and music.

But her great love is dogs, especially, the "special" ones. She has "an entourage" of dogs at her home, and six of them have special needs. When she went down to Louisiana to pick up a teacup poodle, she became friends with the breeder. When the breeder's dogs gave birth to a puppy with special needs, Last adopted it. "There is someone for every one of these little puppies," Last says.

So, how about an astrology column just for pets? "I would love to do one!" Last says with excitement.

Last's daily column features celebrity birthdays, astrological forecasts for babies born on the specific day, as well as a financial overview for each sign. She also offers birthday celebrants seven lucky numbers for their day.

"The Last Word in Astrology" has run in more than 300 newspapers worldwide. Her free Web site, www.astroadvice.com, is called "the most personalized and unique astrology site in the world." Along with that site Eugenia hosts a site for clients and fans at www.eugenialast.com where she offers confidential consultations. Last has also written five books, the text for two computer software programs, two Web sites, appeared on a vast number of radio and television shows, has had a two hour talk show on the CFRA satellite radio, as well as hosting her own half hour television show, "Astro Advice with Eugenia Last."

Most recently, Last has added four new columns to her list of credits: "Astro Advice Weekly," "Astro Advice Monthly," a romance column called "LoveScope" and "Dear Eugenia."

DEAR EUGENIA: I'm having a really difficult time with my relationship, thinking it may actually be over, mostly because he says it is. His birth date is June 27, 1953. He was born around noon. Mine is March 27, 1957 at 10:32 a.m. Thanks for your help. -- T

DEAR T: You should hope that it's over. It's not a great comparison -- it's riddled with deceptiveness and is lacking emotionally. Unfortunately, he isn't the easiest partner to get rid of. He's dramatic and likely to keep coming back for more. He's been overreacting most of the year and putting the blame everywhere but where it belongs. Really: Do yourself a favor and run.

On the other hand, you aren't one to give up or one to run. You hate to be denied and you don't like to be the one left behind. This being the case, and your wanting what you think you cannot have, the answer is simple. Let him think you don't want him and he will be back in a flash. But don't expect anything to change. The same old problems will keep haunting this relationship until you get fed up and find someone new. You should be spending time with an Aries, Gemini, Leo, Libra or Sagittarius.

DEAR EUGENIA: I was born Nov. 27, 1982 at 8:11 p.m. Last October, my ex left me after five years together and the birth of our baby girl, born May 16, 2005 at 10:15 p.m. To be honest, her mother (born Feb. 20, 1989) and I didn't get along well but I do think I really love her. However, I am unsure if I should try to get back together and make it work. Our problem was my lack of ambition. I would go to work and collect my paycheck. We lived with my parents. Since our break-up, I now have two jobs and I'm paying off our debts so that I can buy a house. I feel that her leaving me has made me a stronger and better man.

Dear Eugenia

-- SAGITTARIUS

DEAR SAGITTARIUS: The unfortunate side to your situation is that you actually can get along well but you weren't pulling your weight. Your comparison is quite good and it must have taken a lot for your Pisces woman to pick up and leave, especially with a child. My worry is that she has moved on and, once a woman does that, there is no getting her back. She is going through a period in her life right now where she has the opportunity to meet men who are potentially good for her. However, this configuration in her chart can also bring back old feelings for someone from her past. If you are truly serious about making this relationship work, I suggest that you bend over backwards to win her back. You have until year's end to do so and don't shy away if there is competition. Tell her what's in your heart and about the family plans and goals you want to share with her.

DEAR EUGENIA: I and my wife are very keen to buy a particular duplex in our area but it seems to me there is a game being played by my realtor and the seller's realtor in order to extract a price much higher than the market value. I feel really not too good about it. I was ready to pay more than the price evaluated by the bank but they want even more. What should I do? Should I wait for some new deal in my area or should I give in, although I know that the listing has been on the market since the September of last year? I was born June 28, 1967 at 4:20 p.m. It's really frustrating. Thanks and best regards.

-- SANJAY

DEAR SANJAY: If you do not have an urgency to move, you should hold off. Your chart indicates that you will get a much better deal next year when Jupiter is passing through an area of your chart that deals with home and family. In other words, a better deal or a more ideal location or home will be available next year, so if you don't have to move, back away from the funny business going on. The realtors will either back down and give you the house for the fair price you are willing to pay or a better house will come up for you next year. The other alternative is that this house will remain on the market and you will pick it up even cheaper next year. Do not overpay for something that could turn into a burden or have underlying problems attached to it. You are better off waiting and moving next year.

Put a team together that can help you achieve your goals. The right combination coupled with a little Aries savvy is all that's required. You mustn't try to use force to get your way on the 25th and 26th. A gentle nudge or even doing whatever needs to be done on your own will be your best recourse. A little romance mixed into your time schedule will help you find peace of mind. Look for an adventure on the 27th, 28th and 29th and you will find a challenge that will stimulate, inspire and motivate you to get on with your goals and claim your victory.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Do the legwork on the 23rd and 24th and you will be prepared for whatever comes your way. Do whatever it takes to make someone you love feel special and the support you receive in return will help you excel. You need a change of scenery in order to relax. You may want to give in a little, listen a lot and observe what everyone else is doing on the 25th and 26th before you make your mind up about a personal or partnership issue that has arisen. Charm will work wonders on the 27th, 28th and 29th. Put your best foot forward and discuss your plans for the future. A resolution will be made that will enhance your outlook and your position. You can count on the ones you love to stand by you. Put your skills to the test and you will benefit personally and professionally. Don't confuse what's crucial and what isn't on the 25th and 26th. It's up to you to set your priorities straight and follow through. If you can imagine it, you can somehow pull things together and make it so. This is not the time to give up or give in. Emotional challenges you face on the 27th, 28th and 29th will help you uncover your true potential. Your appeal will be diverse and will bring dynamic and pleasing results.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Let your kindness and generosity shine through on the 23rd and 24th, even if it does mean taking on more responsibility. What you receive in return for your goodness and support will lead to something special. Forget about emotional issues you cannot alter. You are sitting in a good position on the 25th and 26th. Don't be afraid to share your thoughts or to ask for help or even consider your professional options. Apply for a better position or set up an interview that has the potential to lead to a higher paying job. Anger or overreacting to what's going on in your personal life will be futile on the 27th, 28th and 29th. Wait before you mention what you plan to do next.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): One step at a time will bring the best results on the 23rd and 24th. Taking on too much all at once will lead to confusion and an inability to complete. Invest in yourself and your own ideas, not someone else who is looking for a handout or a free ride. Your heart will rule your head on the 25th and 26th, leaving you in a vulnerable position where expenses and doing what's right are concerned. Don't be fooled by someone trying to take advantage of you. You'll have a new lease on life on the 27th, 28th and 29th. Use your vitality and charisma to generate a little action financially, socially and emotionally. You know what's best for you, even if you are going against someone's wishes.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Follow through with your plans and you will accomplish your goals on the 23rd and 24th. Push your skills and talents to the limit and show everyone what you have to offer. A moneymaking development will lead to an interesting turn of events. Getting involved in activities on the 25th and 26th that benefit a cause you believe in or help a friend you care for, will lead to a prosperous venture. Love is on the rise and the chances of enhancing a partnership that interests you are looking very positive. Be careful not to give your secrets away on the 27th, 28th and 29th. A little mystery will add to your appeal and keep you out of trouble. Don't push for unnecessary changes.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Look for signs on the 23rd and 24th and you will intuitively know what to do next.

ASTRO ADVICE WEEKLY BY EUGENIA LAST

Travel and activities that inspire you should be on your agenda. It's time to pursue something or someone you've been longing for. Prepare to do your thing. Do what you promise on the 25th and 26th or someone will criticize your ability to follow through. Use past experience to get something out of the way that you find tedious but necessary. Added detail mixed with a little creativity will bring about a positive change. Plan to participate in an event that you find challenging on the 27th, 28th and 29th. Getting involved in a dispute will not solve anything. Actions speak louder than words.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Take a look at what you've accomplished on the 23rd and 24th and what remains on your to-do list. A move or a change to restructure the way you operate your home or personal life should be underway. Throw a little romance into the equation and you will secure your position. You will face some trust issues on the 25th and 26th that must be addressed before you can make a move. Uncertainty will add mystery and intrigue to whatever you are about to do, creating a stir that will enhance your chance to gain support. Stick close to home on the 27th, 28th and 29th and you will be able to sort through some of the issues that have been holding you back financially.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Take a break on the 23rd and 24th and spend time enjoying what life has to offer. Let your curiosity lead the way and you'll discover something interesting about who you are and what you are capable of doing. You'll be pushed to make a change at home. Someone will be withholding information from you on the 25th and 26th. Before making a decision, rethink your strategy and the connection you have to some of the people who are involved in your plans. Emotions mixed with uncertainty will hold you back on the 27th, 28th and 29th. Prepare to make concessions to compensate for whatever goes wrong or last-minute changes you face.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Reconsider what you want to do on the 23rd and 24th before you proceed. The people who will be affected the most may want to have a say before you make a decision. Find a way to satisfy everyone involved before you move forward. You'll have to be ready to outsmart someone wanting to get something from you on the 25th and 26th. Keep your money locked up tight and only entertain what people are offering. There is too high a price to pay for an untimely mistake. Your emotions will lead you down the wrong path on the 27th, 28th and 29th. Take stock of what you have and what you can get rid of before you promise anything to anyone. Time is on your side.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Don't be afraid to take on a challenge on the 23rd and 24th that can alter your life. You are a natural when it comes to reinventing who you are and what you have to offer. Put your imagination to good use and you will find a way to prosper. You'll be questioning everything you do on the 25th and 26th. Change is in order but that doesn't mean you have to reinvent the wheel. A couple of minor adjustments to the way you do things or to your self-image and you'll be ready to take on the world. Take a good look at whatever is presented to you on the 27th, 28th and 29th. You can make an interesting observation that will lead to a partnership that will help your financial situation.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You may want to keep your plans to yourself on the 23rd and 24th in order to avoid obstacles and opposition. Once you know the specifics, you can share your intentions with someone who has something to bring to the table. Choose your course of action based on the facts as well as what will allow you the best creative outlet on the 25th and 26th. You stand a much greater chance of achieving success if you enjoy what you are doing. Not everyone will see things your way on the 27th, 28th and 29th. That doesn't mean you should back down. Do things your own way. It may take you longer but, in the end, you'll reap the rewards. Believe in your own ability and you will succeed.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Be careful how you conduct yourself. You are likely to send the wrong signals and attract the wrong kind of attention. Don't let anyone put you on the spot or challenge you to do something that may turn out to be emotionally compromising.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): What you see and what you get will not be one and the same. Take your time and get to know anyone coming on to you better before you divulge too much information about who you are and what you have. Be cautious; love is blind.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Your charm will take someone by storm. Before getting all worked up over nothing, make sure that you want the type of relationship being offered. You are in the driver's seat and have the right to say no if you want to. Be selective.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You'll be sizzling hot when it comes to love and emotional matters. State your case, your intentions and your desires and you will get a favorable response. Love is a heartbeat away and a stable and lasting relationship within reach.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You don't have to settle for someone who is following you around. Look outside your immediate surroundings and take part in something that interests you. You will find someone more suitable in every way possible.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Someone you trust will feed you false information. Don't let your pride or your gullibility lead you astray. Ask questions and make your own assessment regarding who is good for you and who is not. A change of heart is apparent.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You'll meet someone who will offer you a unique type of relationship. Consider the long-term outcome before you decide to stand by someone who may not think the same way you do or share your values. There is a price to pay.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Let your emotions lead the way and you'll score big in the romance department. Someone with similar interests and a serious demeanor will capture your heart and show you how gratifying it can be to meet someone who mirrors you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Whatever you do, avoid any sort of commitment or conversation that may put you in an uncompromising emotional position. Uncertainty regarding the way you feel or the way someone feels about you will cause heartache.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): An instant infatuation may be exciting but it isn't likely to end the way you want. Protect your heart and you will avoid having to backtrack when you realize that you've let someone without much substance get too close for comfort.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your open and imaginative way of expressing your likes and dislikes will attract the attention of someone who can help you fulfill your personal dreams. Prepare to spend some time getting to know this person a whole lot better.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Say goodbye to anyone who has been dragging you down. It's time to open up the passageway into your heart. Love is in the stars and getting out and socializing will bring an ideal companion into your life. Prepare to meet your match.
